

Norfolk Public Library Service Policy Statement

COMMUNITY AND LIBRARY DESCRIPTION:

Norfolk is a residential community that continues to experience growth, but retains characteristics of a small New England town. The town encompasses 15 square miles and has 9,396 residents as of 2009. The public library has made every effort to keep pace with the growth (265% increase in 40 years) of the community.

The library's highest service priorities, as determined by a recent community-wide survey are as follows:

- provision of current topics and titles including popular materials/recreational reading
- formal learning support services to the student population.
- lifelong learning support
- providing a “commons” environment for community interaction
- providing business and career information

It is the mission of the Norfolk Public Library to serve the educational, informational, and recreational needs of the community. In the area of educational services the Norfolk Library plays a significant role in delivering library services to young children, students, adults, and retired persons. As an informational resource, the library and its staff seek to enhance access to large amounts of materials through active links with other libraries and the regional library system, through the use of electronic resources, and through the development of Norfolk Library's own circulating and reference collections.

A significant part of the library's active circulation is in the area of recreational materials and the library continues to make available popular materials in all relevant media.

In order to meet the needs of these groups, collection development focuses on current topics and titles, curriculum related non-fiction materials for school age children and young adults, and early literacy materials for preschool children. Audio, video, and electronic resources will continue to be developed.

The Norfolk Public Library participates in the LIG/MEG¹ and Non-Resident Offset programs offered through the MBLC and maintains standards required by the MBLC in order to provide the best possible service to Norfolk residents.

MASSACHUSETTS LIBRARY SYSTEM (MLS):

The Norfolk Public Library is a member of the Massachusetts Library System and utilizes its support services as a means of enhancing services to the residents of Norfolk.

PRIVACY

In accordance with Chapter 78, Section 7 of MGL, borrower records which reveal the identity and intellectual pursuits of a person using a library shall be kept confidential and not released as a public record to law enforcement or other agencies and individuals. The Library retains only as much information as required to provide services. The Library keeps no permanent record of books or materials that have been borrowed and returned, Internet use, Internet sites visited, electronic databases used, or searches performed by patrons.

The U.S. Patriot Act allows federal authorities to apply for warrants to seize records of all types, including those from libraries. Library officials are prohibited from disclosing to any person that such records have been requested. The federal law supercedes local library policy and Massachusetts state law. Therefore, if a valid request is received from federal authorities, the Norfolk Public Library must comply.

Registration information provided by individuals for a library card will not be shared with third parties. This includes name, address, telephone number, birth date, and e-mail addresses. Annually, the library will generate mail labels for the sole purpose of the Friends of the Norfolk Public Library membership drive.

Patron e-mail addresses are used for the purpose of SAILS notifications, including reserve, courtesy and overdue notices; and for library newsletters and announcements. E-mail addresses will not be shared with any business, organization or individual, nor will e-mail be sent on behalf of any business, organization, or individual except the Friends of the Norfolk Public Library. Patrons may opt out of either SAILS or NPL notices by informing the library.

VIDEO SURVEILLANCE:

The Norfolk Public Library strives to maintain a safe and secure environment for its staff and patrons. In pursuit of this objective, selected public areas of the library premises are under continuous video surveillance and recording. Signage is posted throughout the library disclosing this activity.

Images from the Library surveillance system are stored digitally on hardware in the Library. It is the intent of the Library to retain all recorded images for a minimum of 30 days, or until image capacity of the system is reached. Then, the oldest stored images will be automatically deleted by system software to make room for new images. Images may be monitored in real-time and may be reviewed by library management when an incident has been reported.

When an incident occurs on Library premises:

- Video image recordings will be used to identify the person or persons responsible for Library policy violations, criminal activity, or actions considered disruptive to normal Library operations.
- Video records may be used to assist law enforcement agencies in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.
- Video recordings of incidents can be retained and reviewed as long as considered necessary by the Library Director.

- Images may be shared with other Library staff to identify person(s) suspended from Library property and to maintain a safe and secure environment.
- While it is recognized that video surveillance will not prevent all incidents, its potential deterrent effect, and resource as a means of identifying and prosecuting offenders is considered worthwhile.

PATRON CONDUCT:

The Norfolk Public Library is an active information and cultural center. It is appropriate and necessary to maintain an atmosphere which promotes the use and enjoyment of the resources and services of the library and which protects the safety and well-being of the general public, library staff, and the equipment and materials of the library.

Any noisy or disruptive behavior on library property which is likely to disturb the orderly use of library materials or facilities is prohibited.

Running, pushing, shoving, or rambunctious activity is not permitted.

Use of library materials or facilities in a manner, that in the opinion of any member of the library staff, is likely to result in damage or harm to materials is prohibited.

Destruction or defacement of library building, property, or library materials is punishable by law under the criminal statutes.

The restroom in the preschool area is solely for the use of young children and their caregivers. All others must use the main restrooms in the lobby.

All persons are expected to comply with the reasonable requests of any member of the library staff.

UNATTENDED CHILDREN:

It is the responsibility of parents to insure the appropriate behavior of their children in the library. Library staff are not responsible for the supervision of children left unattended by their parents. Disruptive children will be required to leave after receiving two verbal warnings. Library staff will notify the appropriate authorities if they have reason to suspect that there is significant evidence of child abuse or neglect.

Children six years of age or younger shall, at all times, be attended and adequately supervised by a responsible person, (adult or mature adolescent) and not library personnel. Children who exceed six years in age and who are less than nine years in age may be left unattended for up to one half hour in the library. (Exceptions may be made during scheduled children's library programs at which time that person responsible for the supervision of said child or children may elect to be absent for the duration of the program.)

Children age nine years and older may use the library unattended, subject to other rules and regulations in effect at the Norfolk Public Library. See section Patron Conduct.

The Norfolk Public Library assumes no responsibility for children of any age left unattended at the library. Parents assume all liability for damage done by their children to the library facility.

If a problem arises with a child of any age and staff are unable to locate the parent(s) the police may be called at the discretion of the staff. In the case of medical emergency, Emergency Medical Technicians will be notified, and then the parents will be contacted, in that order.

If a child age twelve years or younger is alone at library closing time, library staff will attempt to call the parent(s). If staff cannot reach a parent on the first attempt, the person in charge will call police to assume responsibility for the child. A staff member will remain with the child inside the library entrance until a parent or the police arrive. Library policy will be explained and a copy of the written policy given to the parent. An on-going problem with a family may require police or Office for Children intervention. Under no circumstances will library staff transport or take the child away from the library building.
